

Anti-Federal Reserve group blames officials for bank account's closing NORFED alleges government effort

By Paul Gilkes
Coin World
December 18, 2006

The "monetary architect" for the Liberty Dollar gold and silver private currency medals issued by the National Organization for the Repeal of the Federal Reserve Act believes federal officials are working to undermine his cause.

Bernard von NotHaus accuses officials of seeking to close NORFED's banking account and sending "threatening" letters to NORFED's Regional Currency Offices stating that use of the Liberty Dollar violates federal law.

Von NotHaus says NORFED's Evansville, Ind., headquarters received notice via certified letter Nov. 20 from the holder of its account, Old National Bank, that states: "Please be advised that if you do not close the Account within 15 days of the date of this letter (11/16/06), Old National Bank will exercise its right to close the Account."

NOTE: This article is copyrighted by Coin World. If you have permission and password to Coin World articles, please click HERE.